Volunteer

Programming Language Related User Group

10/2012 - current

Main organizer

The user group is a monthly meetup of people interested in a specific programming language and related topics. Each meeting consists of three presentations and a couple of lightning talks. Currently the user group attracts between 80 and 120 attendees per meeting. My main responsibilities are organizing venues, contacting speakers and moderating the meetings as well as the mailing list. Sometimes I also give presentations.

Rails Girls 06/2012 — current

Coach & Mentor railsgirlsberlin.de

Rails Girls helps to diversify the tech community by teaching beginners how to program. I support Rails Girls Berlin by coaching at workshops and hackdays. Since March 2013 I coach a weekly project group to help interested attendees dig deeper into programming. I also helped Rails Girls Summer of Code 2013 with the team selection process, as well as mentoring two Rails Girls Summer of Code teams.

Highlights

- · Helped multiple attendees to grow into a junior developer position from absolute beginners
- · Created a well received introductory presentation, which I presented multiple times
